

21165

“
Want
you Take
a Gun?”

Words & Music
by
CECIL TREVELYAN
by Arrangement with
A.L. ATTERTON.

Price 1/6 nett.

COPYRIGHT IN ALL COUNTRIES.

PUBLISHERS
CAWTHORNE & CO.,
17 RUNDLE ST.,
ADELAIDE.

T

Won't You Take a Gun?

Can't you hear the bugle calling?
Don't you know the need for men?
Have you heard of comrades falling,
Men now passed beyond our ken?
England's stress makes clear your duty:
Will you shirk or play the man?
Won't you answer promptly
To the call "To Arms" now while you can?

Now's the time your country needs you:
Now's the time for you to hit.
Go where manly feeling leads you;
Show the world you have the grit.
Then when all the fighting's over,
Your's to hold your head up high,
If you've proved yourself a soldier
Fit to fight and game to die.

Chorus.

Won't you take a gun and fight for home, boys?
Would you leave your pals to fight alone?
Won't you join the boys in France?
Be a man and take your chance!
And do your little bit for King and Empire.

WON'T YOU TAKE A GUN?

PATRIOTIC
SONG.

Words and Music by CICIL TREVELYAN.

Allegro Moderato

Can't you hear the bu - gle
Now's the time your coun - try

call - ing? Don't you know the need for men?
needs you: Now's the time for you to hit.

Have you heard of com - rades
Go where man - ly feel - ing

fall - ing? Men now passed be - yond our ken leads you; Show the world you have the grit.

Eng - land's stress makes clear your Then when all the fight - ing's

du - ty; Will you shirk or play the man?
over, Your's to hold your head up high,

Won't you ans - wer prompt - ly
If you've proved your - self a

Chorus (With an easy swing)

To the call "To Arms" now while you can?
sol-dier fit to fight and game to die. Won't you take a gun and fight for home, boys? Would you leave your pals to fight a-lone? Won't you join the boys in France? Be a man and take your chance! And do your lit-tle bit for King and Em-pire.

Listesso Tempo

1^o 2^o

D.C.

Handwritten signature

